Field Trips & More

There are now over 200 photos in the Field Trip Gallery on the FPCC website. January photos from Yachats and the Oregon Zoo have been added. If you wish to put your photos from Yachats or the Oregon Zoo (amazing competition shots, not required), please feel free to upload them. Thanks to John, Akiko & Priscila for sharing photos!

Spring is just around the corner. Jan Eklof has provided me with information on birding events here in Washington. Let's see what we can find here in Vancouver until April. Meanwhile, if you find inspiration from actual printed books, you may enjoy "Must-See Birds of the Pacific Northwest" by Sarah Swanson & Max Smith.

Before you scan the March field trips, please read the items below. I NEED YOU! I NEED YOUR FIELD TRIP INPUT!

1. Scouts & Tipsters: come forward. Some field trip locations do not require research or inspection. However, access to waterfalls, wildlife refuges, and amazing views isn't always easy. (Remember the stairway to the beach in Bandon?) Please let me know if you'd like to be a FPCC FT Scout, so we can physically check out spots beforehand, if needed. Tips are also appreciated: travel/photo/gear/location info for the March list below or future trips (especially email or hand-written notes).
2. Weekend field trips have been requested. That means a weekend trip leader is needed to arrange details--- if the weekend event is a second trip. This would entail sending out meet-up info, carpooling, lunch out with the Field Trippers after some events. You never know what might happen.
3. Longer days are coming, so quick trips for waterfront and bridge shots are imminent. Would you consider trying Sunday evenings to avoid traffic and commuter crowds?
4. Before future road trips, we will start having at least one meeting before road trips to discuss wish lists, trip itineraries, etc.

Thanking you in advance,
Tammy

FPCC Field Trips for April 2014

Sunday, April 6*

"Photography at the Edges of Daylight: Dusk through Dawn" - Seventy photos of people & places shot between twilight and daybreak. This is the last day of the exhibit at Portland Art Museum. Free for members! Admission costs here:

<http://www.portlandartmuseum.org/duskthroughdawn>

PLUS - If you're interested, we could do this (no cameras involved) then head over to Crystal Springs Rhododendron Garden for flowers and duck reflections before twilight. Garden is open until 10 pm. (Admission fee is $4.00.)

*FYI, there were 7 members who came out on a Sunday to see the recent Ansel Adams exhibit at OHS. Expose yourself to art!

Wednesday, April 9

Early birds only - tulips at Wooden Shoe Tulip Farm

Tuesday, April 15

Early birds only - tulips at Wooden Shoe Tulip Farm

Please note there is a $10/carload fee. See website for contest winners from 2013 (including a third place for FPCC member, Don Funderburg):

Sunday, April 27

"Finding Vivian Maier"- new documentary about the nanny whose photographs were discovered after her death. Theater release opens on Friday, April 25. (We saw some of her prints last March at the Blue Sky Gallery.)

From the Wall Street Journal: <http://online.wsj.com/news/articles/SB10001424052702303725404579461170488341910>

Hope you'll join us. Please sign up on meeting nights or by email. Thanks!

It's time to start planning for the FPCC's end-of-the-year banquet!!!!

The banquet will be held on Wednesday, June 11, at Touchmark, 2911 SE Village Loop (the same place we hosted the presentations by Martin Waugh and Tim Morton.) A no-host social will begin at 6:00 p.m. (wine, beer, and soft drinks may be purchased at the Touchmark Café next to the meeting room for $2), with dinner at 7:00. Following dinner, there will be a presentation of everyone's best photos of the year, with awards to the best-of-the-best.

You may select from three main courses...Beef Wellington, Sweet Chile Salmon, or Vegetarian Lasagna. There will also be salad, a vegetable, rice pilaf, rolls, and desert, plus coffee or tea. The price is $25 per person (tax and tip are included).

Please email me at (rfdeming@comcast.net) or call me at 896-9476 to make reservations and let me know your dinner selection. We would like to get your check for $25 per person at one of the FPCC meetings before June 11 so there will not be a line at the door. I'll also have a sign-up sheet at the meetings.

If you have any questions, please email or call me...and put June 11 on your calendar! The dinner is lots of fun, promises to be delicious, and very sociable...so plan to be there!

Thanks,
Sharon Deming
